Local Notice to Mariners # 5/2017 – issued 5th June 2017

New Port Hand Navigation Buoy “Brae Spit”

- Due to the sand spit at Brae Hill steadily encroaching further West across the main navigational channel, it has been necessary to install a new port hand marker to better define the ‘dogleg’ in the channel.
- This new marker, named “Brae Spit”, is a pillar shaped port hand lateral marker and has been laid in position Lat. 50° 33.2’N, Long. 004° 56.075’ W.
- The new marker will have a Fl(2)R 5s light on it with a 1NM range.
- Pilotage notes and the generic passage plan for the estuary (available on the website) have been updated.
- For more details please contact Padstow Harbour on 01841 532239.
